

Around the House

Basic Cleaning Skills

Chores are a meaningful way to be a positive contributor to any family. Not only do chores build skills for future independent living, but it also keeps a family running.

Students who participate will learn basic housekeeping tasks, such as: washing dishes, sweeping or mopping the floor, vacuuming, dusting, and making a bed, team work, following directions, and meeting other blind youth to develop social skills.

Keeping an organized and clean environment are essential for healthy living. We'll discuss and apply strategies and techniques to help.
